

IEC of Idaho

Code of Ethics & Membership Responsibilities

- I. We fully appreciate the honor and responsibilities that go with membership in the Association.
- II. We therefore pledge ourselves to always conduct our business affairs in such an ethical manner as will uphold and elevate the prestige of this Association.
- III. We solemnly pledge ourselves to zealously guard the best interests of our industry and the public at all times.
- IV. We shall recommend adequate wiring and quality materials on every installation.
- V. We shall train ourselves and our employees to do all work in accordance with the Local and National Electrical Codes and Good Engineering Standards and with current safety practices.
- VI. We shall keep ourselves and our employees posted on the latest progressive engineering ideas and developments in materials and equipment.
- VII. We shall maintain good working conditions in our shops and on our jobs and pay our employees a fair price for their labor.
- VIII. We shall word all our contracts in a clear and definite manner.
- IX. We shall live up to all bonafide agreements with Customers, Supplier and Employees.
- X. We shall treat our Customers, Competitors, and Employees fairly at all times.
- XI. All member contractors should conduct themselves in an honorable manner. Examples of conduct considered to be dishonorable may include: directly targeting the hiring of another member's employees and untimely payment of liabilities from one member to another, or of membership dues to the chapter.
- XII. We shall not knowingly indulge in any unfair trade practices.
- XIII. We pledge ourselves to try to attend meetings regularly and take an active part in Association affairs.
